ARCHBALD'S SUN SETS ON DUFFY'S FIELD

The Borough Two-Year-Olds Surprised Themselves by Their Trickery Playing, but Owny McAndrew's Pitching Was Too Much for Them and "The Pets" Win Out by a Score of 4-3, Notwithstanding the Strenuousness of the Archbald Rooters—A Good Game.

If any of the "knockers" or any Archbald man desires to know how Owny McAndrew—our Owny—can pitch, let him ask any of the players on the Archbald team. Nine of them yesterday had rubber bats or bats with holes in them when they tried to connect with Owny's mystifiers, and only five of them could hit the ball safely. That's why the score was 4 to 3 in favor of Carbondale, and that's why the conceit was taken out of the "Pot-holders," and they were sent home, making disgusting faces as they swallowed the bitter pill of defeat. We admit, not to have sugar-coated the pill, but the "Pets" have been so busy, so very, very busy, winning games that Manager Tappan overlooked this detail. We beg the kind indulgence of our town-between-the-culm-dump friends for this omission.

Despite the strenuousness of the Archbaldians, their chief characteristic—no thanks for this much of flattery—the game was a good one. Johnnie Dougher, who had on a fresh button-down shirt, said it was the best game that the Crescents ever won, but as Johnnie is a thorough Archbaldian, we'll overlook his enthusiasm and say it was a good game; a snappy game; a game that was a credit to the players of the Archbald team, and to doughy Dougher, their pitcher, a bright-haired young man, 16 years old, the Archbald people said, who when he becomes a man, is likely to—be sure to—shine in the base ball firmament.

Dougher, hats off to you. You had better come to Carbondale, to a base ball atmosphere, where the climate will agree with you and where you can develop wonderfully, as you will in time; but slowly, we venture to remark, if you persist in remaining in the ancient borough.

We anticipate that Archbaldians will have a whole culm pile of extravagant claims about the superior work of their team; but who would begrudge this harmless diversion to the boroughites? We can afford to be generous. We won. That's glory enough for the "Pets." If the Archbaldians care to pay their cash for special train cars to come to Carbondale, and wear out their vocal cords, who cares? It won't hurt us and it probably amused them. This special car came through Carbondale about 9:30 last night with a band and an Archbald crowd, which is the same thing for noise, and a placard with the score 4-3 in favor of Archbald. In the delirium, perhaps, they imagined they got two runs in the last inning, which a man in Salamanca or even Honesdale, had as much right to claim. But we will discuss this later.

To the game again. Archbald got three runs, but none of them were earned. Cuff apparently had an off day at first base and one of his errors, a muffed ball thrown by Flannery, at second, let in three runs. The other run was made on a long throw from left by Rosler, after a fly catch on the outer edge of the field. It was a hard chance, the ball reaching the home plate a few seconds later.

On the other hand, Carbondale earned two of its runs, which would leave the score 2-0. Murray also had an off day and made errors, which were costly. The "Pets" found Dougher. They batted him all over the lot; he struck out only two men, but our hitting we did not keep them down and they sailed into the hands of fielders. McDonald, in left, had four good catches; Boland, at third, made two wonderful catches, and J. A. Gaughan, at center, had two good catches. Here were eight flies, a good deal more than ordinary work for fielders.

But Owny—our Owny! He showed Dougher, though Dougher is a good one, how to pitch. He had nine strike outs and gave only five hits. Dougher struck out two men and gave Carbondale seven safe ones. Let Archbald take this record and ponder over it; 'twill do them good, perhaps. But one shouldn't gamble on it.

Rosler, the "Pets" fearless fielder, had another great day, making two phenomenal catches, with lightning returns of the game. His batting was "it," too, for his two-bagger brought in one of the four runs. Murray also smashed the ball, having two hits, bringing in the winning run by a two-bagger in the eighth. Cuff had a two-bagger and Emmett had one and Flannery had another. Here were four two-baggers. Another chance for Archbald to compare pitching records.

In the ninth inning, there was intense excitement, for two men got on bases and with one out a fly was knocked to Rosler. He captured it and sailed it to third to catch a runner. The ball got away from Murray, but McAndrew was after it in the crowd and soaked it down to second to head off a runner who was stealing from first to second. There was a mix-up, in which the runner interfered and was called out. This would have retired the side. The runner on third started home and Flannery, recovering himself, threw to Loftus, who fairly begged the runner, ending the game and blocking the run that would have tied the score. However, there was a bit of unfair ball playing that would have ended the game, regardless of whether or not Loftus caught his man. An Archbald player started down the line before the game was over, and the Carbondale players. He humped against Loftus, who touched him with the ball and also touched the runner. In the meantime the man who was disqualified at second ran the bases, after Umpire Burke declared the first runner out at home, ending the game, leaving the score 4-3 in favor of Carbondale. The Archbald team was dissatisfied, however, it was hard to lose, and they went home claiming the score 5-4. This was the occasion of the outlay of cash for special cars and a band and the trip to Carbondale last night.

That's the way we celebrate our victory. (2) A bright-haired Archbald man, as the car went through Carbondale, to the amusement of the "Pets," who won. We guess the Archbald man is right, at that. The score:

Whitney's Observations.

Says Whitney, in his latest correspondence:

"Thus far, this season, the Susquehanna Stars have won seventeen and lost three games. They played the sloppiest game in their history at Carbondale. There was little glory in winning such a game."

In the Star-Crescent series each club has taken a balloon ascension. Now for one real game of ball!

The Stars were treated handsomely in both Honesdale and Carbondale. For this, many thanks.

There's a splendid feeling between the Stars and the Crescents, which is more than all else. May this happy condition never change.

And now let the band play.

Courteous and Hospitable.

Susquehanna people are lavish in their praise of the courteous and hospitable treatment received at the hands of Carbondalians on Sunday, and their great wish is to have an opportunity to reciprocate.—Susquehanna Transcript.

ENCROACHING ON STREET

Complaint Made at Select Council by Property Owners of Terrace Street, with Reference to Excavating at Methodist Church.

Attorney Louis Gramer appeared before select council last night, in behalf of Terrace street property owners, with respect to the excavating that is being done for the proposed furnace room of the Methodist church.

The property owners on the easterly side of the street, judging from their own sidewalk line, are of the opinion that the excavating at the church encroaches on the roadway for ten or eleven feet, and feel that if the work be not stopped that this will be establishing a precedent, and that another, if he chooses, can chop off ten feet or so of the roadway, as in this instance. There is no sidewalk where the excavating is in progress, and council is asked to establish, by ordinance, a sidewalk line, to determine whether or not this is an encroachment on the roadway, as the property owners claim.

T. C. Robinson spoke for the church, and assured council that nothing would be done that was opposed to the rights of the property owners. He was not, but the contrary was believed, then the work would be stopped.

The matter was referred to the street committee.

Other business were resolutions directing the sale of the stone crusher to T. H. Howe, of Scranton; granting permission to Samuel Smale to make a sewer connection with his Terrace street property, and ordering a profile of Seventh avenue, between Washington and Park streets.

Retreat at St. Rose Convent.

The annual retreat of the Sisters of the Order of the Immaculate Heart of Mary, of the Scranton diocese, will begin this evening in St. Rose convent at 7 o'clock. Special services will mark its opening and the Sisters' choir will render the accompanying music. The retreat will be conducted by Rev. Father Hogan, a Redemptorist Father from the Saratoga mission house. It will continue until August 15.

This Is One Big Bass.

Among the many disciples of Isaac Walton who ponder upon the fickleness of luck—and fish—E. W. Reynolds, of the firm of Roberts & Reynolds, news-dealers, is to be numbered as not the least successful. Mr. Reynolds had the pleasure of capturing a black bass yesterday, at Crystal Lake, which tipped the beams at five and a half pounds.

Sontag Stands the Test.

As the result of a bet on the recent prize fight, George Sontag paid the bill for a genuine old-fashioned clambake, held at Blodgett Chivitt's, on Church street, last night.

Mr. Sontag held his bet as only a "good fellow" can. In his capacity as toastmaster, paymaster and host, he delighted his friends by the genial and whole-souled manner in which he settled up. Those who helped him enjoy the meal are loud in their praise of the spread, and are as follows: Messrs. B. Chevita, John Burkhardt, H. Goldman, Walter Wills, George Ward, G. Himmler, F. Judge, Andrew Fluellen, Herman Goldman.

A NUPTIAL SURPRISE.

Miss Annie Sanford, of Clark Avenue, and John Sullivan, of Brooklyn Street, Are Wedded.

The numerous nuptial surprises which have taken place in Carbondale recently were added to this week, when the wedding of Miss Annie Sanford and John Sullivan took place on Tuesday evening.

The nuptials occurred at St. Rose parochial residence, and were attended by only two who were closely connected with the parties. Mrs. Oscar Ace, sister of the bride, was bridesmaid, and John Flannery was groomsmen. Very Rev. T. F. Coffey, V. G., pastor of St. Rose, officiated.

After the marriage there was a pleasant celebration of the event by the bridal party and a few friends.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Sanford, and has numerous admiring friends and well-wishers in Carbondale and vicinity.

The groom is an employee of the city street department, and claims a wide circle of friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Sullivan will reside for a time at the groom's home, on Brooklyn street.

EDITOR OF SPORTS.

Thomas V. Nealon's Progress on the Trenton True American.

It is always pleasing to take notice of the progress of a Carbondalian, who is away from home heaving out the path to success, amid strange surroundings. The news, therefore, of the continued progress of Thomas V. Nealon, on the Trenton (N. J.) Daily True American, will give renewed pleasure to his numerous friends and well-wishers in Carbondale and vicinity.

Mr. Nealon is now editor of sports on the paper. This means a good deal more than one would suppose, as the True American has nearly a whole page devoted daily to all the sports, base ball, golf, horse racing, yachting, etc. There is an immense amount of detail work connected with the "getting up" of these "stories," all of which is under Mr. Nealon's supervision. The trust that is reposed in him is not only a compliment to his well-informed knowledge of the work, but is a greater compliment to his judgment. Thomas V. is at home in dealing with sports; he is thoroughly posted on athletics and is so familiar with sporting vernacular that his reports are always refreshingly breezy and spicy. There was evidence of this in his work for Carbondale papers, among them this department of The Tribune, having contributed various articles during last fall and early this spring.

More convincing evidence that Mr. Nealon has caught on with the Trenton paper is the fact that he was for some time special assignment man on the True American; that is, he was given the big "stories" that are out of the ordinary routine of everyday newspaper work. Copies of the True American received at The Tribune office each week show that he is a crowd-pleasing older man of the paper in the matter of good stories. Numerous of his stories are illustrated from photographs taken by himself.

The newspaper men of Carbondale join in the felicitations that are due their former co-worker and renew their wishes for his continued success.

Mr. Nealon will spend his vacation in Carbondale, commencing the first week in September.

Very Remarkable Cure of Diarrhoea.

"About six years ago for the first time in my life I had a sudden and severe attack of diarrhoea," says Mrs. Alice Miller, of Morgan, Texas. "I got temporary relief, but it came back again and again, and for a long time I have suffered more misery and agony than I can tell. It was worse than death. My husband spent hundreds of dollars for physicians' prescriptions and treatment without avail. Finally we moved to Bosque county, our present home, and one day I happened to see an advertisement of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy with a testimonial of a man who had been cured by it. The case was so similar to my own that I concluded to try the remedy. The result was wonderful. I could hardly realize that I was well again, or believe it could be so after having suffered so long, but that one bottle of medicine, costing but a few cents, cured me." For sale by all druggists.

tion, where he has been spending the last month. He had as his guests here during the past few days James E. Smith and O. F. Ferris, of the same place.

TAYLOR.

The Reds added another victory to the list when they defeated the reorganized Old Forge team in an interesting contest yesterday afternoon. Schildts did the twirling for the home team and pitched his usual good game. He allowed but three hits in seven innings played. The visitors barely escaped a shut out, as the two runs scored were unearned. The home team played its usual snappy game and easily out-played their opponents. The hitting of J. Morris and Day were the features. The score:

Batteries—Schildts and Glynn; Williams and Phillips. Umpire—McHugh. Miss Annie Bessinger, an accomplished young lady of South Main street, and Mr. Richard Watkins, one of our prominent musicians, and who at present holds a lucrative position as clerk at the Scranton postoffice, were married at the Baptist church at Easton, Pa., by the pastor, Rev. M. J. Watkins, brother of the groom. They will enjoy a short wedding tour and on their return they will make their home in West Scranton.

The ball game between the Butchers and the Clerks, played on the Riverside grounds yesterday, was won by the Clerks by a score of 16 to 5. The game was full of interesting plays. The hitting of the Clerks was terrific, knocking the Butchers' pitcher out of the box. Powell, the Clerks' catcher, made one of the longest hits made on the grounds this season. It resulted in a home run with two on bases. Manager Watkins, of the Clerks, was presented with a bouquet by admirer at his first time to bat and he responded by making a long drive. About three thousand spectators witnessed the contest.

Mr. and Mrs. Tullie Griffiths and son, John, have returned home from a few days' visit with relatives at Binghamton, N. Y.

Mrs. Griffith Price and son, of West Scranton, were guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Williams on Tuesday.

Mrs. H. D. Jones, of Priceburg, was the guest of friends in town yesterday.

Thomas McDonald, of Oak street, will leave today for Baltimore, where he will enter college.

Scranton's Shopping Center

Somehow people are never satisfied that they've got the best or they've seen everything until they have visited Connolly & Wallace's.

Not sentiment, but sense.

Every store tries to have the things that people want most, but some stores are more successful than others.

Every store makes its prices as low as it can, but some stores can afford to make them lower than others.

10,000 Handkerchiefs

For Men and Women

No need of economizing on your hot weather supply of handkerchiefs when fresh, new all-linen handkerchiefs, laundered and ready for use, are to be had for such ridiculously small prices as these. You could almost use them once and then throw them away without being extravagant.

For Women—All-linen, hemstitched, fine, soft finish, 15c value. Price 9c each. $1 dozen.

For Men—All-linen, hemstitched, regular 20c value. Price 12 1/2c each. $1.40 dozen.

For Men—A grade finer than above, the usual 25c handkerchief in other stores. Here for 15c each. $1.70 dozen.

Cotton Dress Goods

There is just one way to make a quick transfer of these serviceable and dainty stuffs from our counters to your sewing rooms. We have chosen the little price method, which is severe, but effective. But we never count it a money loss when we make such friends as these bargains are sure to obtain:

8c yard—Lawn and Dimities that were 10c and 12 1/2c.

10c yard—Lawn, Dimities, Swisses and Batistes that were 12 1/2c and 15c yard.

15c yard—Finest Irish Dimities, that were 22c yard.

20c yard—Oriental Pongee, fine, soft and light, former price 25c yard.

JERMYN AND MAYFIELD.

The Mayfield council held their monthly meeting Monday evening. Considerable time was spent in discussing the question of who were to keep the art lights in repair. After the secretary had read the contract with the electric light company it was thought the company are to be held to the fact that the culm is again filling in the bed of Mother Hard's creek. After much discussion on this question it was decided that the council should investigate the matter. The Chestnut street bridge was reported to be in a very unsatisfactory condition. Councilman Slintha asked to have a culvert opened up on the bridge, between the Delaware and Hudson railroad and Hill street, to carry the water away. Council would not consent to have the work done as the street has been in repair for some time. The board of health reported Maple street to be in a very unsatisfactory condition as a result of the cows running at large in that vicinity. Health Officer Dr. Hard suggested that the council take some action to abate the nuisance. Council was of the opinion that it was a matter that should be attended to by the residents of that street and not by the council. Theodore Wachna was elected to fill the vacancy on the board of health.

C. D. Winter, senior partner of the firm of C. D. Winter & Co., and a man well known throughout the county, was seized with sudden illness last night. He was leading a meeting in the Methodist Episcopal church, when he became speechless and sank upon a chair. He was carried to his home close by and attended by Drs. Davis and Graves. At the time of his death he was seated in the front row of the church. The cause of death was asphyxiation.
